Research Objective & Technical Specifications

- OBJECTIVE : The non-profit organization ACTIVE DADS FOR THE RIGHTS OF THE CHILD assigned Focus Bari S.A. to conduct a Panhellenic Telephone Survey to an adult audience, in order to obtain information on the views of Greeks on the issues of parental equality and child custody as well as answers to questions about whether Greeks decide which politicians to vote for or not, influenced by the positions of the candidates (politicians or parties) on issues related to child custody.
- POPULATION COVERED: Men-Women, 18-74 years old, Greece
- ESTIMATE OF COVERED POPULATION (IN '000 PEOPLE): 7.659 (EL.STAT./Census 2019)
- DATA COLLECTION METHOD: Telephone interviews (C.A.T.I.*) using the specialized VOXCO SOFTWARE (www.voxco.com)
- SAMPLING: Random selection of landline and cellular telephone numbers formed by special telephone call management software (VOXCO), based on the prefixes assigned in the coverage areas by EETT to OTE (GR Communications Organization) and the ALTERNATIVE telecommunication service providers. Interviews were performed only for tel. numbers corresponding to permanent residences within the coverage areas. Sample take was an interview performed per household. For the actual representation of the public, quotas were applied to the total sample in terms of gender, age groups and area of residence, according to the proportions of each group of the actual population.
- SAMPLE SIZE: 1.000 people
- SAMPLE ERROR: 3,1% (Confidence Interval 95%)
- AVERAGE DURATION OF COMPLETING A QUESTIONNAIRE: 6' 04"
- DATE OF CONDUCT: 7-16/10/2020
- AUDIT (MET BY FOCUS BARI INSPECTORS): At 14,4% of sample
